

Explaining the Benefits of Project Management

PMI Arabian Gulf Chapter Kuwait community leaders are shown with Minister of Public Works Dr. Fadhil Safar. From left to right, Ahmed Khalil, PMP; Mohammad Al-Ajmi, PMP; Hashem Al-Refaai; Dr. Safar; Wael Al-Jasem, PMP and Shaymaa Hajjiyah.

DR. FADHIL SAFAR, Minister of Public Works and Municipality of Kuwait, met in May with Hashim Al-Refaai, a leader of the PMI Arabian Gulf Chapter Kuwait community, along with several other community leaders.

Mr. Al-Refaai explained to the minister the mission and objectives of PMI, and the values and services that could be provided to project management professionals within ministry operations.

It was agreed to conduct a later presentation to the ministry's senior management to explain in more details how the ministry can benefit from PMI project management knowledge.

The leaders highlighted that the PMI Arabian Gulf Chapter Kuwait community is promoting project management knowledge across the region and making valuable benefits available to the local community. This includes the delivery of various project management events, interactive networking sessions, technical presentations, training courses and workshops.

For more details on upcoming events, available benefits and opportunities for involvement, please visit www.pmiagckw.org.

commented on plans to continue the growth and development of the chapter and the profession of project management in Panama.

The event also included a guest speaker, Elsa Garcia, who is a consultant and certified coach from Ascenso XXI. She spoke on the development of management and leadership skills.

The event concluded with an opportunity to celebrate and share the chapter's birthday cake.

—Eberhard Balmaceda
Vice President, Communications
PMI Panama Chapter